Educational Programming, Assessment and Consultation Services

The Educational Programming, Assessment and Consultation (EPAC) Services are located within the Georgia Division of Family and Children Services' (DFCS) Well-Being Services Section - Community Programs Unit. The Georgia Division of Family and Children Services (known herein as "The Division") investigates child abuse; provides foster homes for abused and neglected children; assists low to moderate income families by providing financial assistance; provides support to families seeking childcare assistance; and provides many other numerous support services to assist and support families in need. In an effort to support the Division's broader goal of being a resource to families by promoting self-sufficiency and independence, EPAC is an academic support program that focuses on improving the academic outcomes and achievement of children and youth who are currently in foster care. Through a youth-centered approach, EPAC works collaboratively with other Division, state and county offices to ensure the educational well-being of children and youth in foster care are being met and that appropriate goal setting is in place for older youth that supports their educational stability. Within EPAC, various services and resources are provided including diagnostic educational assessments, tutorial services, connection to community-based educational support, and the coordinated procurement of educational services.

The primary mission of the EPAC Unit is to improve reading and math abilities of school-aged children from five years of age through eighteen. A secondary goal is to improve educational stability for all children and youth in the custody of DFCS.

Education Support Services

Educational Programming, Assessment and Consultation (EPAC) services are the official statewide educational support services provided to youth in foster care within Georgia. The following services are available and provided to youth within EPAC:

Diagnostic Educational Assessments - Each youth who is referred for EPAC services receives a diagnostic educational assessment. This assessment is provided by a certified teacher or EPAC staff member and is in the academic subjects of math and reading. The assessment provides a comprehensive review of the math and reading performance of the youth.

Educational Consultation to Case Managers - After a youth has received an initial diagnostic educational assessment, the Education Support Monitor (ESM) assigned to the youth's respective DFCS region will consult with the youth's Case Manager to develop an Education Action Plan based on the results and summary provided from the assessment.

Tutorial Services - Youth who exhibit a need for remediation or support within their academics may receive additional tutoring services provided by an EPAC Education Specialist who is a certified teacher.

School System Partnership and Support to Youth – EPAC partners closely with the Georgia Department of Education and Local Education Agencies/school systems throughout the state of Georgia to ensure the appropriate academic services are provided to youth in foster care. Additionally, EPAC Education Support Monitors advocate on the youth's behalf to ensure quality services and academic monitoring is provided. This advocacy can range from youth who have multiple foster care placements and need coordination of their school academic records to youth who have identified special needs and are in need of additional academic supports (i.e. IEP) that allow for increased school and learning engagement.

Educational Service Monitoring of Child Caring Institutions - EPAC provides additional monitoring of academic support services provided by Child Caring Institutions (CCIs) and group homes. Due to the vulnerability of youth who reside in these settings and the varying academic needs of each youth, EPAC will be an additional support for these institutions.

Education Specialist Recruitment

Youth who exhibit a need for remediation or support within their academics may receive additional tutoring and additional education services provided by an EPAC Education Specialist* who is a certified teacher. Education Specialists are certified teachers who contract with the Georgia Division of Family and Children Services to provide tutoring services and additional educational monitoring support of youth in foster care who are referred to EPAC. Note: Education Specialists refers to the tutors who provide tutorial services to the youth in care. It does not indicate a type of degree preferred.

Eligible individuals seeking to apply to become an EPAC Education Specialist must meet the minimum qualifications below:

- Current GA Teaching Certificate (verified by Georgia Professional Standards Commission)
- Complete a Criminal History Investigation process (background check)
