Pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer (P-EBT)

The Families First Coronavirus Response Act includes a benefit called Pandemic-EBT (P-EBT) for children who received free or reduced-price school meals in the 2019-2020 school year, but their school is was closed.

Who needs to apply for P-EBT?

If your family is currently receiving SNAP, you may not need to apply for P-EBT. We will make every attempt to match our SNAP records with information provided in the Department of Education (*DOE) files.

If we can match your child exactly, that child's benefits will automatically be added to your existing SNAP card. If we cannot exactly match your child between the SNAP records and the *DOE records, see information on how to claim the P-EBT benefit for other children in your home in question and answer 4.1 below.

Everyone else must apply to get P-EBT benefits.

Complete the entire application to see if your child is eligible. Answering all questions will help us process your application more quickly.

Applications will be processed in the order they are received. The P-EBT amount for each eligible child is $256.50.

P-EBT Frequently Asked Questions

The Georgia Division of Family & Children Services (DFCS) in partnership with the Georgia Department of Education (*DOE) has been approved to operate the new Pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer (P-EBT) program.

This program will provide extra help to families of more than 1.1M children who normally would receive free or reduced school lunch.

Families will receive a one-time allotment of $256.50 in total P-EBT benefits per child.

DFCS is working to operationalize the P-EBT program, so please continue to visit this page for more information and updates.

Families who are currently receiving Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly Food Stamps) do not need to apply for P-EBT benefits. Eligible SNAP recipients will receive a P-EBT benefit preloaded on their existing Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT) card.

The program is also available to families not currently receiving SNAP but approved for the free or reduced school lunch program. These families will need to submit a formal application to receive P-EBT benefits. Once the application is approved, an EBT card will be mailed to the family within three (3) to four (4) weeks. Below are Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) regarding the P-EBT program:

1. What is P-EBT?

Pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer (P-EBT) is a new program authorized by the Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA), which provides assistance to families with children who have temporarily lost access to free or reduced-price school meals due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The P-EBT program is a collaboration between the Georgia Division of Family & Children Services (DFCS) and the Georgia Department of Education (*DOE) and is intended to help families provide meals for their children.

2. Who is eligible for P-EBT?

Due to school closures caused by the pandemic, these households are now eligible to receive benefits on an EBT card to help them buy food for their children. The Georgia Division of Family & Children Services (DFCS) is utilizing data from Georgia *DOE to determine a child's eligibility for P-EBT and enrollment in the school lunch program.

3. Does legal status of the child affect eligibility for P-EBT? Will school aged children who are undocumented non-citizens enrolled in a free/reduced school lunch program receive the P-EBT benefits?

All children who would receive free or reduced-price meals, if not for their school closure due to COVID-19, are eligible to receive P-EBT. 4. How to apply for P-EBT

The P-EBT program will be available to children that attended a Georgia public school (including Georgia public charter schools) and were eligible to receive free or reduced priced lunch as of March 2020. The program will use data from Georgia DOE to determine a child's eligibility for P-EBT and enrollment in the school lunch program.
